FLOOR DEBATE

March 28, 2001 LB 523

SENATOR DIERKS: Oh, okay. I thought you said time. I must have been hearing things. I should correct one statement I made to Senator Chambers. I said I'm a paralegal. That's not true, I'm kind of "pseudo-legal". Yeah.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: (Laugh) That's okay.

SENATOR DIERKS: And maybe that's called an "embryo-legal" or I'm not sure where we get to with that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Baker.

SENATOR BAKER: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and members. I need to back up. I believe that this statement is correct and I ask that Senator Wehrbein respond, if he would, please. I think that we need to get on the record, maybe it was, I haven't been involved with this debate all the way, but Nebraska, this is going to affect only bottled milk. Is that correct, liquid milk?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Yes.

SENATOR BAKER: And what...I have figures here that say 30 percent of our milk is bottled, 40 percent is bottled, what...is that in the ballpark there?

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: It varies month to month but, yes, that's right, 30 to 35 percent.

SENATOR BAKER: Okay. I guess my point being that the majority of the milk produced in Nebraska is not going to benefit from being in a compact anyway. We're a cheese and apparently ice cream or processed milk state, and that raises another question in my mind. What are we doing being recruited by a compact when the majority of our milk isn't going to be affected by this anyway? And someone maybe later can answer that question. I am a little bit skeptical here. I have a letter from the Northeast Milk Producers Cooperative in Norfolk that says they represent 64 Nebraska dairy producers and 29 percent of the total milk production, and they obviously are opposed to this compact. I
